Notre Dame Campus Living/Learning Community	The Notre Dame Campus houses around 20 upper-class students (as well as a Resident Assistant and a professional-on-call), who have committed to a different college campus experience--one that focuses on community service, social justice and a more reflective life, giving them a deeper sense of Emmanuel's mission and their role in the larger Boston community. Residents serve weekly with community partners in the area.	$ 26,000.00	Both	Ongoing	Community partner, agencies throughout the City of Boston	Emmanuel College
Urban Food Project	The Urban Food Project has been established by Emmanuel College to provide nutrition education and information, as well as urban gardening strategies to families in Boston, specifically in Roxbury. The project targets three main areas: gardening, education, and outreach. Working closely with community residents and partner organizations, Emmanuel students maintain an urban garden at Emmanuel's Notre Dame Campus, and offer workshops, cooking classes and other programming tips on nutrition and healthy lifestyles for families. The urban garden is designed to demonstrate techniques and provide the skills for community residents to develop their own urban gardens. An existing greenhouse at Emmanuel's main campus allows for year-round gardening and gardening education as well as help support the Notre Dame Campus garden. As part of its education and outreach efforts, students have established relationships with homeless mothers and children at Nazareth Residence and fourth-grade students at OLPH Mission Grammar School. Programming is designed to enable families to eat nutritiously in the urban food desert that is the Roxbury section of Boston. We intend for the Urban Food Project to foster a long-term partnership with the community.	$ 13,500.00	Both	Ongoing	Roxbury residents, homeless mothers and children at Nazareth Residence, 3rd grade students at OLPH Mission Grammar School, and residents throughout the greater Boston area through outreach and education	Emmanuel College

OLPH Mission Grammar School	Emmanuel College and Mission Grammar share a long and unique history of serving as urban Catholic schools in the same neighborhood and work toward the common goal of educating for life as partner institutions. The partnership is brought to life in numerous ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mission Grammar serves as a volunteer site for Emmanuel's days of service and as a regular volunteer site for students in classrooms and through the after school program. • Mission Grammar serves as a site for pre-practicum students and student teachers. • Mission Grammar has served as a site for numerous service-learning courses. • Mission Grammar scholars are regular visitors to Emmanuel's campus for various programs through the Kids to College program. • Mission Grammar administrators and teachers participate regularly in trainings hosted by the Carolyn A. Lynch Institute at Emmanuel. • Members of Emmanuel's faculty, administration and staff are part of Mission Grammar's Advisory Board. • Mission Grammar's principal and several faculty and staff members are Emmanuel College graduates. • Mission Grammar services as one of Emmanuel's community partners for the Four Year Service Program Mission Grammar is a special partner to Emmanuel College. The affection for Mission Grammar extends beyond graduation as the current principal and numerous faculty and staff are Emmanuel alumni. Mission Grammar scholars are often quoted as saying, "When I go to Emmanuel College..." While Emmanuel's goal is not to recruit every Mission Grammar scholar (although some Mission Grammar graduates are now Emmanuel students) the satisfaction of hearing young children talk about College in their future is most gratifying and is an important goal of our partnership.		In-Kind (costs already incorporated into other line items)	Ongoing	OLPH Mission Grammar School faculty, staff, and students.
