Mayor Walsh and the Commission on Affairs of the Elderly celebrated the 40th anniversary of Boston Seniority magazine, a free City publication dedicated to informing and engaging older adults in Boston.

"For four decades, Boston Seniority magazine has helped us tell the stories that make our city so special," said Mayor Walsh. "It has connected and celebrated the people who know this city better than anyone: Boston's seniors."

Started in November 1977, Boston Seniority magazine has a circulation of 15,000 copies, 10 times a year. It is distributed to more than 300 sites across the city, including Boston Public Library branches, elder housing complexes, and grocery stores. The magazine features content that includes important resources and ways to access benefits, lifestyle and health tips, and feature stories about older adults.

"I look forward to this magazine each month," said Roxbury resident Mary A. Pennellatori, 80 years old. Residents of Chestnut Park in Cleveland Circle. "We love reading the magazine! It's educational, gives us ideas for outings and ways to stay active members in the community."

City Archivist John McColgan said, "Boston Seniority is an important part of the City Archives' holdings and documents the work of the Elderly Commission serving Boston's seniors. We're excited to share these magazines as a part of this important milestone."

"This magazine has chronicled our city and Commission's history, but even more importantly, it has captured our readers' milestones, too," said Commissioner Emily Shea. "It is a monthly celebration of our readers' voices and experiences, and we are honored to be a part of their lives."

Presidents' Day falls on the third Monday in February in the United States. It is also known as Washington's Birthday, after George Washington, the first president of the United States. The day is meant to celebrate George Washington and all the presidents of the U.S. It became a federal holiday in 1879. Although there was an attempt in 1968 to officially call the third Monday in February Presidents' Day, it failed. It eventually came to pass that in 1971. Still many states choose to call this day Presidents' Day instead of Washington's Birthday. Some states also celebrate Abraham Lincoln's birthday at this time as well.
