

Meredith Paige Shih

Meredith Paige Shih is a clinical instructor at Harvard Law School, teaching at the Criminal Justice Institute. Shih's background includes work as an attorney representing criminal defendants for Wood & Nathanson LLP and the Committee for Public Counsel Services. Shih's experience also includes roles at the Disability Law Center, Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD) and the State Appellate Defender's Office. Shih earned her JD from Boston University School of Law.