The minutes of the meeting shall state that the member has abstained from consideration of the matter.

In the event a member is in doubt about whether he or she has a disqualifying interest in regard to a matter before the Commission, he or she should disqualify (him) herself or seek an opinion of the Corporation Counsel. 4.7 Advance Review of Applications: All members shall, if possible, review applications for certificates of appropriateness and be familiar with the subject building before the public hearing on the applications. Abutting property owners and all others receiving notice shall also be notified that applications are available for public inspection at the Commission office.

Continuation: A decision on an application before the commission may, at the discretion of the chairperson, be taken under advisement and continued to the next regular meeting of the commission or to a special meeting in the event that unusual conditions warrant more time to study the merits of the application. This condition must not exceed 50 calendar days from the date of the application as per enabling statute without applicant's written permission.

Delinquent Attendance: Members who are absent from three or more successive regular meetings and public hearings of the commission or who, in the judgment of the chairperson and the vice-chairperson repeatedly fail to attend committee meetings, shall be subject to appear before the commission in Executive Session to show cause why the commission should not request their resignation or seek their removal and a new appointment in their stead in accordance with the enabling statute. 5.2 Application: All applications for a certificate of appropriateness must be complete and include all items specified on the instructions. Incomplete applications will not be heard. The secretary shall not accept any incomplete application. It is the policy of the commission to encourage one complete application for all contemplated changes on any one building.

5.3 Deadline: An applicant must file a complete application for a certificate of appropriateness no later than 14 days prior to a regular meeting of the commission to be heard at that meeting.

ARTICLE 6:

(3) a statement that applications are available for public inspection in accordance with Section 4.7 of these regulations and the open meeting law.

6.3 Waiver of Notice: The commission shall hear an application for certificate of appropriateness without advance notice at a regular meeting if, and only if, all persons entitled to notice as listed in Section 6.1(e) of these regulations waive, in writing, their right to notice.
Conduct of Hearings: The chairperson shall serve as presiding officer at all hearings; if he or she is not present, the vice-chairperson or an acting chairperson shall preside.

Order of Speaking: Any member of the public, in order of recognition by the chair, may speak on the application within the time limit imposed by the chair, so that all will have a fair opportunity to be heard.

ARTICLE 7: Actions by the Commission:

7.1 Certificate of Appropriateness: The commission may take any of the following actions regarding applications for Certificate of Appropriateness:

1. approval—The commission may approve the application for certificate as submitted. This action authorizes the secretary to issue a certificate of appropriateness;

2. conditional approval—The commission may approve the application subject to certain conditions, and may designate the commission as a whole, any commissioner, the secretary or any other member of the staff to certify that the conditions have been met. This action authorizes the secretary to issue a certificate of appropriateness upon certification by the designated person that the conditions have been met;

3. denial—The commission may deny the application, in which case it must set forth its reasons, and notify the applicant in writing of the reasons cited for denial, and may include recommendations concerning the work proposed in the denied application. Without substantial changes, a denied application may not be resubmitted for two years;

4. denial without prejudice—The commission may deny without prejudice the application in order to request additional or alternative information, in which case it must specifically set forth the required additional or alternative information.

7.2 Notification of Action: The secretary shall send a notice of decision on an application for certification to the following:

1. all persons listed on the application; and

2. all persons who have requested, in writing, notice of the decision at the hearing.

7.3 Appeal of Satisfactory of Conditions: If both the person designated under Section 7.1(2) to certify conditional approval and the applicant cannot agree as to whether the conditions have been met, the applicant may appeal to the full commission by filing an appeal with the secretary. The appeal must be filed in writing by the deadline for application for certificate of appropriateness, and must include all necessary drawings and documents. The appeal will be heard at the first eligible regular meeting of the commission; the commission may uphold or deny an appeal by simple majority vote.
Limitation of Effectiveness: Certificate of Appropriateness shall be effective for one year from the date of the decision. If work is not completed within one year of the date of the decision, said certificate shall lapse and be invalid unless renewed by the Commission prior to the expiration.

ARTICLE 8: Certificates of Non-Applicability and Exemptions:

8.1 Certificate of Non-Applicability: The commission may issue a certificate of non-applicability as described in Section 7 of the enabling statute to persons seeking building permits within the Back Bay Architectural District whose proposed work does not involve any exterior architectural feature, as defined in Section 3 of the enabling statute as amended.

It is the duty of the secretary to certify that no exterior architectural feature is involved, based on plans presented to the secretary and other documents required in any building permit application. If the secretary is unavailable, any one commission member or the staff architect, may make such certification. Such certification may include a visit to the property in question. Within eight days the member, secretary or architect shall determine if the work proposed on the building permit application involves any exterior architectural feature. If no such feature is involved, the secretary shall stamp on the permit application that a certificate of non-applicability has been issued, and return it to the applicant. If an exterior architectural feature is involved, the secretary shall notify the applicant of the determination and of the requirement for a certificate of appropriateness.

8.2 Exclusions: Work excluded from the commission's jurisdiction by the enabling statute consists of ordinary maintenance or repair involving no change in design, material, color or exterior appearance; and work ordered by the building commissioners to rectify an unsafe or dangerous condition.

The secretary or staff architect shall stamp on any building permit application for work excluded from review that the work is excluded, and return it to the applicant. Any application for exclusion for public safety must include a copy of the order from the building commissioner requiring the work. Any attempted ordinary maintenance or repair that produces a change in a building's exterior appearance shall be stopped by the applicant and application made for a certificate of appropriateness.

ARTICLE 9: Violations:

9.1 Procedures: The secretary shall notify owners of record of property where exterior changes are being made without commission approval that they are in violation of the enabling act and that they are required to apply for a certificate of appropriateness. The secretary shall issue notices of violation to the owners of record, describing the violation and the steps needed to rectify it, in response to complaints filed by any of the following:
Replace Sections 9.1 and 9.2 of existing by-laws with following revisions.

9.1. VIOLATIONS COMMITTEE.

In order to attempt to resolve violations without litigation, the commission may appoint a subcommittee of its members and alternates to review architectural violations, to determine a course of corrective action, and to pursue legal enforcement as provided by statute. The violations committee shall be assisted by Assistant Corporation Counsel and by the commission staff. The committee's disposition of violations shall be final unless the commission or committee determines that commission review is appropriate.

a) Members: Minimum of 3, maximum of 5; to be appointed by BBAC chair for 1 year term (renewable).

b) Chair: To be elected by committee members at commission's annual meeting.

c) Meetings: The violations committee may meet as necessary to conduct its business.

9.2. PROCEDURES.

a) Role of Staff: The staff shall investigate reported architectural violations, issue notices of violation and cease and desist orders (the latter to be served on site by constable), schedule violations committee meetings and take minutes, maintain records (including electronic recording of meetings), conduct inspections and monitor the progress of correction, confirm correction and issue dismissals, refer violations to counsel for judicial enforcement at the direction of the committee, and report to the commission on the status of outstanding violations. The committee and/or staff architect shall review and approve details of approved corrective action. The staff shall maintain records of the status and disposition of all violations.

b) Notices of Violations: Upon the determination by staff that a violation exists, the party responsible shall be informed in writing by means of a Notice of Violation. If the violation is the result of work performed by or for a tenant or individual unit owner, the property owner or condominium/cooperative association will also be notified. Said notice shall set forth in detail the nature of the violation and the corrective action required. If corrective action requires a determination by the violations committee, the notice shall require the responsible party's attendance at the committee's next meeting.
c) Corrective Action: Applications for Certificates of Appropriateness will not be accepted to approve work done in violation of the statute. Work done to correct violations shall be in accordance with Remedial Action Orders issued by the violations committee. A Compliance Agreement, signed by the party responsible for the violation, will be required as part of corrective action. An application for a Certificate of Appropriateness will be required only in cases where the violations committee negotiates the settlement of a violation which entails alterations to exterior architectural features not involved with the violation (e.g. correction of inappropriate grandfathered alteration in return for violation dismissal). Except where the commission specifically decides otherwise, or where the application is for maintenance and repair of features not in violation, applications for Certificates of Appropriateness will not be accepted for properties having outstanding violations.

e) Responsibility of the Property Owner: Although the commission holds all parties liable under the statute responsible for the correction of violations, the commission holds the property owner ultimately responsible. If a property is conveyed to another party, the new owner, as well as the former owner, will be responsible for correction of any outstanding violations.

If there is still no response from the owner or any agent of the owner, the secretary shall be required (with the consent of the Chairman or vote of BBAC at its next meeting) to turn the violation over to the Corporation Counsel for appropriate action to require conformance with the enabling act. Enforcement shall be pursued according to Section 11 of the enabling statute as amended.

9.2 Records: The secretary shall maintain or cause to be maintained a record of all notices of violation sent and responses received, and shall distribute a copy of the record to the commission at its regular meetings.

ARTICLE 10: Amendments:

10.1 Procedures: These regulations may be amended by a two-third majority of the commission as provided in Section 4.3, at a regular or special meeting of the commission provided that the amendments are filed with the secretary and mailed to the commission members, alternates, and other interested parties as determined by the secretary and the chairperson with the notice of the meeting.

ARTICLE 11: Severability:

11.1 Severability: The provisions of these rules and regulations are severable; if any such provision or provisions shall be held invalid or unconstitutional by any decision of any court of competent jurisdiction, such decision shall not impair or otherwise affect any other provision of these rules and regulations.
