U-factor measures the rate of non-solar heat transfer from one side of the window to the other. A lower U-factor means less heat transfer.

R-value measures the resistance of a glazing material to heat flow. A higher R-value means less heat flow. Higher insulating value than one with a low R-value is better for performance.

Solar Heat Gain Coefficient (SHGC) measures how well a product blocks heat from the sun. The lower the SHGC, the better a product is at blocking unwanted heat gain.

Visible Transmittance (VT) measures how much light enters through a product. The higher the VT, the more light that enters through.
