Case Summary:

On November 28, 2022 the Office of Police Accountability and Transparency received an anonymous complaint regarding a Boston Police Officer who allegedly entered the home of the Complainant without permission and intimidated them.

The Complainant stated that on October 17, 2022, the Complainant reported their juvenile child had been missing since October 4, 2022. The Complainant spoke to C-11 Detectives and was instructed by them to give BPD a call if their juvenile makes contact with them. On October 18, 2022 the Complainant stated that the juvenile did call and stated they and a friend were in danger. The Complainant called 911 and told the dispatcher that her life was in danger and asked dispatch to send out officers to her location.

The Complainant stated that two uniformed white officers arrived at their home and there was one officer in particular, who was being very disrespectful. The Complainant alleged that this particular officer forced their way into the Complainant's home and was being very disrespectful to the Complainant. The Complainant alleges that the Officer informed the Complainant that they received a call for someone in need of help and entered the home to search the residence. The Complainant stated that they felt uncomfortable around the Officer because they were standing in doorways and did not allow the Complainant to freely enter and exit different rooms of their home. The Complainant claimed that they placed a call to their siblings to ensure there were people hearing what was being said by this particular officer. The Complainant alleges the Officer alleged to be disrespectful placed their hand on their weapon after instructing the Complainant to get off of their phone. The Complainant said the officer said "you called four times tonight and the police had real emergencies." The Complainant said the whole time the officers were inside their apartment they felt even more intimidated because of the way the officer was acting.

Document/Video/Other Investigation Technique Summary:

door throughout the 36 minute and 7 seconds of the video and did not follow the Complainant around the home. The officer exhibited no threatening or intimidating behavior, but instead calmly received the Complainant's report and gave suggestions such as that they could reach out to the Lawrence Police Department given the Complainant suggested that the juvenile is currently in Lawrence. Throughout the duration of the video the Complainant goes on and speaks about the incident that transpired as well as various other subjects that did not pertain to the incident. The officer was observed to be respectful during their interaction with the Complainant and there is no evidence that shows the officer intimidating the Complainant.
