I. OVERVIEW

RFGA OVERVIEW AND PURPOSE

The Mayor's Office of Workforce Development (OWD) is the City of Boston's workforce development agency. Under the leadership of Mayor Michelle Wu, OWD administers funding from various sources to support a broad range of services including education and training, career development, job training, adult basic education, and youth employment services leading to greater economic security. One such funding source is the Community Development Block Grant – Public Services (CDBG-PS).

Each year, the City of Boston receives CDBG-PS funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) through the Mayor's Office of Housing (formerly the Department of Neighborhood Development). The funds are primarily used for affordable housing and economic development activities. However, up to 15% of the funds can be used for "public services" related to economic development. As the City's workforce development agency, OWD manages this portion of the funding on behalf of the Mayor's Office of Housing. The public services component of the CDBG-PS provides services for low-income individuals and families with the goal of moving them out of poverty towards economic security.

This Request for Grant Applications (RFGA) solicits competitive proposals for services under CDBG-PS. As a division of the Boston Planning and Development Agency/Economic Development and Industrial Corporation (BPDA/EDIC), OWD will handle all questions concerning this RFGA, review all submissions, and prepare funding recommendations.

PRIORITIES FOR CDBG-PS FUNDING

The priorities for funding in this RFGA were developed through a previous planning process.

For FY 2025, OWD will prioritize programs and services aimed at placing low-income Boston residents on a continuum of quality education, training, workforce development, and economic security programs. This continuum is defined as high school diploma/GED/Hi-SET attainment, matriculation into post-secondary education or industry-recognized training programs, placement into jobs with demonstrated career paths, and/or access to income maximization programs that stabilize individuals and families with barriers. OWD has developed a visual of this economic opportunity continuum, which can be found in Appendix C.

Preference will be given to programs offering employment in a job along a career pathway, education/training, and economic security as a continuum with an integrated approach, where individuals can take advantage of multiple services to help them become economically self-sufficient. Employment programs, when combined with post-secondary education/training and critical economic security services, are capable of promoting sustained, significant change in the lives of low-income individuals.

For certain populations, including seniors and individuals with disabilities, OWD will support economic security programs that allow individuals to retain their current employment and/or allow them to lead stable, economically self-sufficient lives. OWD defines economic security programs as income maximization programs that allow individuals to access public and private benefits. Programs emphasizing the economic security component on the continuum pathway must indicate in their narrative the specific dollar amount in public and private benefits that participants will obtain to maximize their income. Applicants successfully integrating the three program components that include employment, education, and economic security programs, if funded, will likely be funded at the higher range of the grant.

CDBG funding has also been used to supplement the funding from the Commonwealth's Department of Elementary and Secondary Education, the main source of substantial funding for adult basic education in the state. Boston has a history of ABE services provided by a broad network of community-based providers that has served the needs of specific communities at the same time as serving the greater community. While there has been a variety of different strengths and gaps in services, this RFGA prioritizes ABE services that address the following: 1) the lack of funding for the higher levels of English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) that would help them to prepare for and obtain their High School equivalency through a GED or HiSET test; 2) the general scarcity of programming that would support adult students who have obtained their high school diploma to go further in their education by taking classes and obtaining credentials such as post-secondary degrees or industry-recognized certificates/credentials; 3) a need for more collaboration between adult education providers and employers to determine the kinds of skills and competencies that will make students more marketable for jobs that pay above the living wage and have pathways to advancement. Ideally, there should be a clear connection and a concrete synergy between the educational path an adult student takes and the development of their employment and career.

Program design must be based on at least one of the categories of activities leading to stronger economic situations for participants: placement in jobs along a career pathway, placement in job training and/or post-secondary education leading to a career, or economic security through strategies to maximize cash-equivalent benefits. Preference will be given to programs that combine more than one of these broad categories.

We are also looking for innovative practices that address the extra barriers many low-income participants face to obtain quality jobs as defined in this RFGA and acquiring the skills and credentials needed for career level, family-sustaining wages. These innovative designs meant to solidify the career pathways of "next steps" are not mandatory but will give applicants a chance to accrue extra points contributing to their reading scores.

FUNDING AVAILABILITY AND PERIOD OF PERFORMANCE

At the issuance of this RFGA, the City has not been informed by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) of the allocation of CDBG-PS funds for Fiscal Year 2025. The total allocation for the previous open and competitive round in FY 2023 is approximately $2.3 million. To optimize our grant dollars, OWD intends to award fewer grants in larger amounts ranging from a minimum of $35,000 to a maximum of $100,000 for one year to successful applicants.

OWD does not predetermine the amount of funds to be dedicated toward each program model. The type and quality of proposals submitted will determine the funds awarded. Open and competitive procurement typically occurs on a two-year cycle. Contracts resulting from this RFGA are anticipated to commence on July 1, 2024, and end on June 30, 2025. Contracts are awarded for one year, and a re-funding process determines the second year of funding. Re-funding for FY 2026 (July 1, 2025 – June 30, 2026) will be contingent upon satisfactory program performance, approval of a re-funding application, and the availability of federal funding. Only awardees of this RFGA, providing Boston services for CDBG-PS during FY 2025, will be eligible for refunding during the second year.

II. ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

ELIGIBLE APPLICANTS

This is an open and competitive procurement process. Eligible applicants must hold 501(c)(3) status under the Internal Revenue Code, be in the process of receiving such status, or have an identified fiscal sponsor holding 501(c)(3).

- OWD will prioritize organizations with a track record of providing services to low-income residents in Boston.

Please note:

- Each applicant may apply as the lead applicant for only one proposal. Applicants may be members of more than one partnership under this RFGA. Applicants may also serve as a fiscal agent for more than one organization.

ALLOWABLE USE OF CDBG-PS FUNDS

- CDBG-PS funds must be used to provide direct services as outlined in this RFGA.
- CDBG-PS funds may not be used to replace local or state government funds. Funds may be used to provide new or expanded services, but not for specific activities which have lost local or state funds within the past twelve months.
- CDBG-PS funds may not be used to fund political activities.
- Public resources cannot be used to promote a particular religious point of view.

PARTICIPANT ELIGIBILITY AND TARGET POPULATIONS

All participants served with CDBG-PS funds must meet all the following eligibility characteristics:

- Documented residents of the City of Boston. Non-residents cannot be served with these funds.

- Individuals, including youth, adults, and seniors with household incomes below 80% of the area median income for Boston, as defined by HUD<sup>1</sup>. The current 80% of median figures for Boston are shown in Appendix B. CDBG-PS funds are required by law to benefit individuals with this income level. Programs are also required to report on how many participants fall below 50% and 30% median income.
- Preference will be given to re-entry or court-involved individuals; out-of-school youth; seniors; persons with disabilities; homeless individuals; documented immigrants; English Language Learners; adult basic education learners; dislocated workers; long-term underemployed or unemployed individuals.

III. SERVICES REQUESTED

OWD seeks proposals for programs offering education and/or training; job readiness and job placement; and/or economic security (opportunities to maximize income through public benefits or employment as appropriate). Preference will be given to proposals incorporating these components in a convincing way with tangible outcomes. Individuals with limited education or job skills find it difficult to attain higher wages or skills for advancement. Therefore, we encourage programs that lead to the attainment of a high school diploma/GED/HiSET, post-secondary education and/or training.

The goal of this RFGA aligns with the city-wide economic opportunity agenda that tackles income inequality for Bostonians. OWD is aware that there are not enough funds to go around to support multiple continua of programs and services – so under this RFGA, OWD will be looking for organizations to work together to build a structure to provide a full set of education, employment, and economic security programs. OWD encourages applicants to partner to provide a career pathway continuum and clearly define each partner’s strengths, roles, and responsibilities under this RFGA.

OWD defines a career pathway continuum as an effort that provides a clear sequence of activities and a connection between education, training programs, and economic security services that leads to employment. Career pathways allow participants to progress from one level to the next to build skills that lead to improved career prospects. Career pathways prepare and place individuals into jobs in high-demand and high-wage industries with increased earning opportunities by providing industry-recognized credentials, certificates, and degrees.

To show that a program is aligned with labor market needs, applicants must present data documenting need in the occupations they are targeting and provide evidence of strong employer involvement in the form of a detailed Memorandum of Agreement/Letter of Support. Multiple employer partners are encouraged.

Under this RFGA, OWD seeks innovative models or approaches that respond to the needs of target populations and employers in today's changing economy. Described below are allowable program types under the three pillars of a career pathway continuum:

- Employment Programs: Employment programs can include occupational skills training, pre-apprenticeship, apprenticeship, career exploration, on-the-job training, and transitional employment programs. These programs provide individuals with specific skills needed for a particular occupation with living wages, and opportunities for advancement and wage progression. Employer engagement may be demonstrated through involvement of employers in the development of curricula and agreement to interview program graduates. In addition, employer engagement can include job shadowing and mock interviews. Employment programs include job readiness services as well. Re-entry programs will need to demonstrate the involvement of committed employers willing to hire ex-offenders. If the target population requires evening or weekend programming, applicants should design programs with hours meeting that need.
- Education: Education programs can include alternative education, HiSET or GED programs, adult basic education (ESOL and pre-GED or pre-HiSET) and post-secondary education programs. These programs provide individuals with credentials, certificates, and degrees necessary to obtain a career. OWD understands that post-secondary education can take more than two years for target populations to complete. OWD is interested in seeing proposals that not only provide opportunities for individuals to enroll in post-secondary education, but also provide support services that help them persist and complete the program. The training should incorporate basic education and soft skills development to meet the needs of the target population. If the target population includes documented immigrants, English Language Learners, long-term underemployed or unemployed individuals, bridge programs and adult basic education programs can also be included as part of the continuum to accelerate credentials and skills building, but generic, stand-alone bridge programs unconnected to employment and/or post-secondary education/training will not be considered responsive to this RFGA. ABE providers should be familiar with and able to implement most if not all the following indicators of program quality developed by the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education: 1) Program Design; 2) Access and Equity; 3) Career Pathways Collaboration; 4) Curriculum and Instruction; 5) Student Progress 6. Advising and Student Support Services; 7) Organizational Support; 8) Educational Leadership; 9) Professional Culture; 10) Fiscal and Data Accountability.
- Economic Security: Economic security programs include income maximization services, defined as any public or private benefits that are not earned through wages from employment. These can include but are not limited to SNAP, TAFDC, EITC, SSI, SSDI, alimony, child support, unemployment insurance, pension/retirement, and disability benefits. Income maximization programs provide individuals with cash-equivalent benefits that allow them to stabilize their economic situations. In addition, economic security programs also include increases in income due to wages from employment. Asset building strategies and financial literacy programs to help individuals manage their finances that lead to greater economic security are also considered responsive to this RFGA.

OWD prioritizes programs that incorporate all three critical components of a career pathways model – employment, education/training, and economic security. These three components can all be provided in-house by the lead applicant or can include collaboration with other organizations that can provide one or two of the three components. However, for certain populations, like seniors and individuals with disabilities, emphasis will be placed on economic security programs that allow them to retain their current employment and/or allow them to lead economically stable lives.

SET OF PROGRAM DESIGN PRINCIPLES

In funding career pathways continuum services, OWD adheres to a set of principles, which include:

- Provision of a career pathways continuum that leads to family-sustaining that pay living wages, or jobs or at a minimum Boston's official Living Wage, currently at $18.20/hour.<sup>2</sup>
- Innovations in program design to address the needs of a wide range of individuals.
- Sound recruitment strategy.
- Coordination between programs and partners to provide sequences of activities in employment, education, and economic security.
- A high degree of coordination of wrap-around support services to address a wide range of individual and family needs.
- Partnerships that include employers and institutions of higher education in program development and implementation activities.
- Investment in comprehensive assessment processes that value a high degree of customer direction in program choice.
- Clarity on specific steps in the program that begin or continue successful employment, education, and/or training, or economic security steps that lead to a pathway of economic stability and success.

REQUIRED PROGRAM ELEMENTS

- Career pathways continuum structure. Applicants must describe a clear career pathways continuum model, indicating what services will be provided and by whom for program participants, including education, training, employment, and/or provision of economic security services. The description includes specific job(s) that program participants are expected to obtain upon successful completion of a pathway. Career pathways must identify specific steps of activities that lead to placement into jobs or post-secondary education/training.
- Recruitment. In their proposal, applicants must demonstrate an understanding of the target population they have chosen. Applicants must be capable of executing a comprehensive recruitment strategy for the target population and must show how the strategy they propose will lead to the desired level of enrollment.
- Participant assessment. To ensure participants are successful and receive appropriate services, a thorough and in-depth assessment of each prospective participant is essential. Applicants should explain the process they use to assess potential participants, the steps and tools involved, and how their assessment protocol improves the service model. Intake and assessment should flow into and directly inform case management and the delivery of services. Individuals found to be not ready for the program must be referred to appropriate services. Attendance, conduct, and termination policies must be consistent.

- Partnership plan. A strong partnership is critical for collaborative proposals. Applicants must establish a plan that clearly identifies which organization is providing which service for program participants, including educational, training, and employment services, provision of case management programs, provision of economic security services, and/or job placement and retention services. Partnerships can include but are not limited to employers, higher education institutions, and other community-based organizations with expertise in serving the target population.
- Case management and wrap-around support services. A clear case management strategy for a coordinated response to participants' needs is essential to their success. This begins with one-on-one case management and the development of an individual service plan based on a thorough assessment of the individual's assets and aspirations, as well as any barriers to employment/education/economic security. The plan must be jointly developed with the participant, and regularly reviewed by the service provider team and the participant. The plan should have clearly stated education, training, employment, and/or economic security goals with projected start and end dates for all activities. Applicants should clearly demonstrate how case management is integrated into their service model. Effective case management assists participants in overcoming multiple barriers to success, including but not limited to scheduling difficulties, immigration issues, transportation problems, childcare issues, and financial challenges. Case managers should monitor participant attendance and performance and problem-solve with them as necessary. After placement into jobs or post-secondary education/training, staff should continue to provide support as needed to ensure retention and to address concerns participants may have.
- Remote service delivery (if applicable). If any portion of the program is to be offered remotely/virtually, programs must address how participants will be assessed for their digital literacy skills and supported during remote instruction.

PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

This RFGA intends to place Boston residents on a continuum of services in employment, education, and economic security. The outcomes for programs funded under this RFGA are organized by those three components.

For certain populations or certain occupations, temporary, part-time, or subsidized jobs may be a strategic first step – these interim/intermediate outcomes will be considered successful short-term or mid-term outcomes. Placement into bridge programs may also be a strategic first step toward employment. Applicants proposing such strategies, however, must make a compelling argument in their favor and demonstrate a continuum of career pathways to better jobs (i.e., increased hours, unsubsidized jobs, etc.). Placement into post-secondary education/training, with a strong likelihood of it leading to jobs, will be considered a successful outcome. Applicants proposing economic security outcomes must identify the specific dollar amount that participants will obtain as a result of income maximization services and/or employment. Applicants are not required to produce all the outcomes listed below within the scope of this RFGA – however, applicants must demonstrate how their career pathways continuum will eventually lead to long-term outcomes of attaining jobs at livable wages.

There are a variety of outcomes that can be achieved with CDBG funding, including:

Employment Outcomes

- Number of participants who obtain employment. Employment can include part-time jobs and subsidized jobs that lead to full-time unsubsidized jobs with benefits.
- Number of participants who retain their jobs for at least 30 days.

Educational Outcomes

- Number of participants who obtain a high school diploma/HiSET or GED.
- Number of participants who obtain post-secondary degrees and industry-recognized certificates.
- Number of participants who are placed into industry-recognized skills training programs, such as occupational training, pre-apprenticeship, or apprenticeship programs.
- Number of participants who are placed into post-secondary education, including community colleges and universities.

Economic Security Outcomes

- Number of participants who have obtained or experienced an increase in cash-equivalent benefits, with a specified dollar amount.
- Number of participants who have experienced an increase in income through wages from employment.
- Other financial/asset-building metrics, defined by the applicant.

In Appendix E, applicants should provide outcome projections for indicators that apply to the program model.

PROGRAM MONITORING/REPORTING

OWD will conduct site visits to monitor compliance and quality of services. Monitoring may be in person or virtual. This includes:

- Achievement of objectives in accordance with proposal and contract
- Integrity of administrative systems and eligibility determination; and,
- Quality of service evaluation through observation and informal interviews

These monitoring activities may take the form of administrative record reviews, interviews of staff and/or participants, and general observations of the facilities, operations, and training activities.

Participants not adequately documented as CDBG-PS eligible will not count towards outcome measures.

Applicants must demonstrate the capacity to perform administrative responsibilities including maintaining records of participant eligibility, attendance, and progress; tracking participation; and submitting program reports and invoices in a timely manner.

FINANCIAL MONITORING/REPORTING

Site visits will also be used to monitor financial compliance with CDBG-PS and other applicable regulations.

If your agency expended $750,000 or more in federal financial assistance, from any and all funding sources during the most recent audit period, you are required to have an audit prepared per the Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance or “UG”). The complete text of this audit guidance can be found at 2 CFR Part 200, Subpart F in the Code of Federal Regulations. A complete copy of the UG-compliant audit report must be submitted, along with a copy of any management letter (if one exists). Agencies subject to the Uniform Financial Statements and Independent Auditor’s Report (UFR) filing requirements of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts may use the UFR format.

If you expended less than $750,000 in federal funds, and are exempt from the UG audit requirements, then a statement attesting to that fact must accompany your audited financial statements.

If you expended less than $750,000 in federal funds but are subject to the UFR filing requirements of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, then you should submit a complete copy of your agency’s UFR.

Applicants are encouraged to share this information with appropriate fiscal staff to ensure that the audit report submission is correct and complete. Proposals that do not contain a complete audit report submission will be considered incomplete.

- ✓ Partnerships:
- Describe in detail how your partnership will contribute to the success of your program.
  - Clearly define the roles and activities of the partner organizations. Attach a Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) or Letter of Support between your organization and the partners outlining the responsibilities and contributions of partner organizations. - c. Assuming your program is funded, describe your sustainability efforts, including how your agency would deal with a possible reduction of funding in the second year of this two-year funding cycle, and how this would impact your program.

8. Innovation (optional but goes towards total points) 5 points

- a. Briefly describe how your program is innovative in how it 1) accelerates the timeline for advancing along a career pathways continuum, and 2) how it enhances your program design built around one of the three required forms of career advancement (job placement in a career pathway job; job training in an industry-recognized occupation or other career-advancing post-secondary education; or economic security). For this section, innovations in your proposal cannot replace one of these pillars but should enhance or extend them. They should represent an advancement to current or past program designs that go beyond the minimum requirement for career advancement.

9. Digital Literacy and Programming 5 points

- a. If any portion of the program is to be offered remotely/virtually, describe how your participants will be assessed for their digital literacy skills and supported during remote instruction.

Budget (this is not counted in the 15-page limit) 10 points

Using the forms provided in Appendix F, present a budget cover page, a cost detail page, and a budget narrative for the CDBG-PS funding you are requesting. Each form is a separate worksheet in the Excel workbook. Use the forms provided and use the original formulas of these forms. (Note: forms will round to the nearest dollar). Applications that do not include these forms will not be considered or will be marked down.

These forms should show CDBG-PS funds only. Use the budget instructions page in this RFGA as a guide for the requirements under each budget category. The total project budget must reflect the program plans and proposed staffing patterns. The budget narrative should present descriptive detail on all line-item costs in the budget so that readers will not be left with questions about how you propose to use the funds.

Collaborative proposals should submit one set of budget forms that clearly identify the project costs of each agency. The minimum grant award is $35,000. The maximum grant award is $100,000. Do not submit a proposal for less than $35,000 or more than $100,000. Each applicant may apply as the lead applicant for only one proposal.

Total 110 points

PROPOSAL SPECIFICATIONS

Applicants should ensure their proposals comply with the following requirements:

- A response to each section of the RFGA is required and should follow the guidelines and sequences as specified in the Proposal Guideline section (Section V). Each section should be labeled.
- Every section of the Request for Proposals should be completed in full. If funded, the proposal will provide the basis for contract negotiations, and final negotiated terms will be incorporated within the contract as the Statement of Work.
- Proposals should be typewritten, double-spaced, in 12-point Arial font with one-inch margins.

The proposal narrative may not exceed 15 pages. The page limit does not include the cover sheet, budget forms, or any required attachments.

* Some sections require appended material. All forms should be completed in full.

EVALUATION OF PROPOSALS

Proposals will be evaluated based on the quality of the proposal, congruence with the goals of this RFGA, past program performance where appropriate, geographic distribution of services, and service to the target population. Point values are allocated to each section of the proposal narrative as follows:

Proposal Summary	5 points
Agency Background and Organizational Capacity	15 points
Target Population	10 points
Program Design	30 points
Staffing	10 points
Outcomes	15 points
Sustainability Plan	5 points
Innovation	5 points
Digital Literacy and Programming	5 points
Budget	10 points
Total	110 points

These values are an evaluation tool; they do not dictate which proposals are ultimately recommended for funding. OWD reserves the right to reject any proposals, to waive or modify any requirement contained in this RFGA, to amend without consultation any proposal, and to effect any agreement deemed to be in the best interest of the City and its residents.
