BCYF SUMMER GUIDE

Summer in Boston is a season of pure energy. It's the sound of block parties, the breeze on a bike ride during Open Streets, the magic of movies in the park, and those long afternoons spent with a cold ice cream in hand. Most importantly, it is a time for us to find joy and community in every corner of our city.

Our BCYF community centers are the engines of that summer spirit. We have designed this guide to help you stay active, stay cool, and make the most of every sunny day. Whether you are looking to dive into one of our pools or join a neighborhood game, BCYF is your home for summer fun.

We are committed to making Boston a city for everyone, which is why our 2026 programming is more diverse than ever:

- Stay Active: Free basketball clinics, competitive sports leagues, and open swim sessions.
- Get Creative: Arts and crafts, dance classes, and hands-on workshops.
- Look Forward: Future-focused programs like coding workshops and leadership training.

To ensure every family can participate, our programs remain affordable, accessible, and often entirely free. With community centers in every neighborhood, high-quality programming is never more than a few blocks away. I invite you to visit Boston.gov/Summer today to explore the full schedule and find the perfect fit for your family. Let's make this a summer to remember. I'll see you out there!

Michelle Wu, Mayor of Boston

At Boston Centers for Youth & Families, we believe every resident deserves access to a vibrant, engaging summer. Guided by our values to act with compassion, build community, and commit to growth and learning, our centers serve as the heart of Boston's neighborhoods, welcoming all with spaces where people of every age can feel connected and belong. For Summer 2026, we are strengthening that commitment by keeping the majority of our programs free or low cost, ensuring access for all.

Inside this guide is an updated lineup of opportunities designed to keep you active, learning, and connected. From dynamic day programs and expanded teen opportunities to swimming lessons, competitive basketball leagues, and a full range of aquatics offerings, there is something for everyone.

Our centers are more than buildings. They are safe, supportive spaces where we lead with compassion, bring people together and create opportunities for continuous growth. Whether you are diving into the pool, exploring a new interest, or connecting with your community, BCYF is here to support Boston's families every step of the way. Wishing you a safe, active, and joyful summer!
