

CYCLE SAFELY BOSTON

Every bike ride should start with a helmet.
But first, does your helmet fit properly?

1

Eyes: Position the helmet on your head to be 1-2 finger widths above the eyebrows. When you look up you should see the helmet.

2

Ears: Adjust the side straps on both sides to form a "V" shape under the ears using the sliders.

Mouth: buckle the chin strap and open your mouth wide to make sure the strap is snug and secure.

Those with bigger or thicker hair should look for helmets with an adjustment dial or size up and use extra padding. Wear a bandana, buff, or baseball hat under the helmet to reduce hair volume and get a tighter fit.
