About the EAP

The City of Boston Employee Assistance Program began in the 1970's; with a primary focus on assisting workers who needed help addressing alcohol/drug issues which affected their work performance. Over the years as workplace environments have evolved, EAP continues to utilize a strength based and solution focused approach to provide a wide range of resources and skills development that will help improve the overall well-being of the City of Boston's diverse workforce.

Mission Statement

To promote, establish and increase quality of life, good health and personal experiences. Our goal is to work in collaboration with employees family members and retirees to restore and or initiate well-being in work and life.

Who we serve?

The EAP is a resource offered to the City of Boston workforce. The service is available regardless of position or length of employment, is confidential and is available at no cost.

What we do?

The EAP is continuously meeting the emerging needs of the workforce by providing a wide range of human services. We provide a benefit to all City of Boston employees and their family members in identifying their specific needs and resolving personal concerns impacting work and life.

How do we do it?

Our focus is on our client's strengths and well-being. Using prevention and early intervention strategies, we assess their needs and provide referrals to corresponding agencies, advocacy, and case management.

What value do we bring?

The EAP offers a safe and supportive environment that is sensitive to the concerns and interest of the City of Boston workforce. We collaborate with employees to resolve concerns that may impact health, well-being, social functioning, and productivity issues in the workplace such as:

- Balancing Work and Family
- Mental Health
- Alcohol and Drugs
- Recovery Management
- Job Related
- Domestic Violence
- Financial

and much more...

The EAP is a neutral and voluntary resource and our focus is employee well-being. For additional information you can access our website:
